(HOLDREGE, Neb.) -- The Central District Water Users annual meeting will be held Mon., March 3 at the Super 8 Motel Conference Room in Holdrege. The meeting will begin at 12 noon with a steak lunch provided by the Central District Water Users.

This year the district will host Plate River Recovery Implementation Program director Jerry Kenny to join Central's Cory Steinke to discuss the progress of the J-2 Regulating Reservoirs project. Following the J-2 presentation, Dale Schlautman from EA Engineering will report to the water users on the recently completed study of the groundwater mound beneath Central's service area.

CDWU President Dave Dahlgren will then facilitate a panel discussion among Central and Tri-Basin NRD representatives how the information might affect future water management decisions. Steinke will then wrap up the meeting with a presentation regarding the projected water supply for the 2014 irrigation season.

The Central District Water Users is an association of irrigation customers served by The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District.

All Central irrigation customers are invited to attend the annual meeting.
